ALMA MATER

Hail to old Newberg,
To our Gold and Blue.
We're standing together
With loyalty true.
We'll raise our voices
To cheer for Newberg high.
We're true to old Newberg,
Her fame will never die.

DEDICATED . . .

MRS. PAUL

Whose intelligent advice helps students publish a bi-monthly paper.

Whose friendly, humorous personality has endeared her as our Senior class adviser.

Whose colorful conversation makes Senior English a delightful class to attend.

It is a pleasure to dedicate the 1958-59 CHEHALEM.

FORWARD

The purpose of a yearbook is to help a student recall his happy high school days. We, the staff, sincerely hope that in the years to come the 1959 Chehalem will attain this purpose.

This year the Chehalem theme is the Centennial, commemorating Oregon's being a state for 100 years. The scenic pictures were obtained through the courtesy of the State Highway Commission.

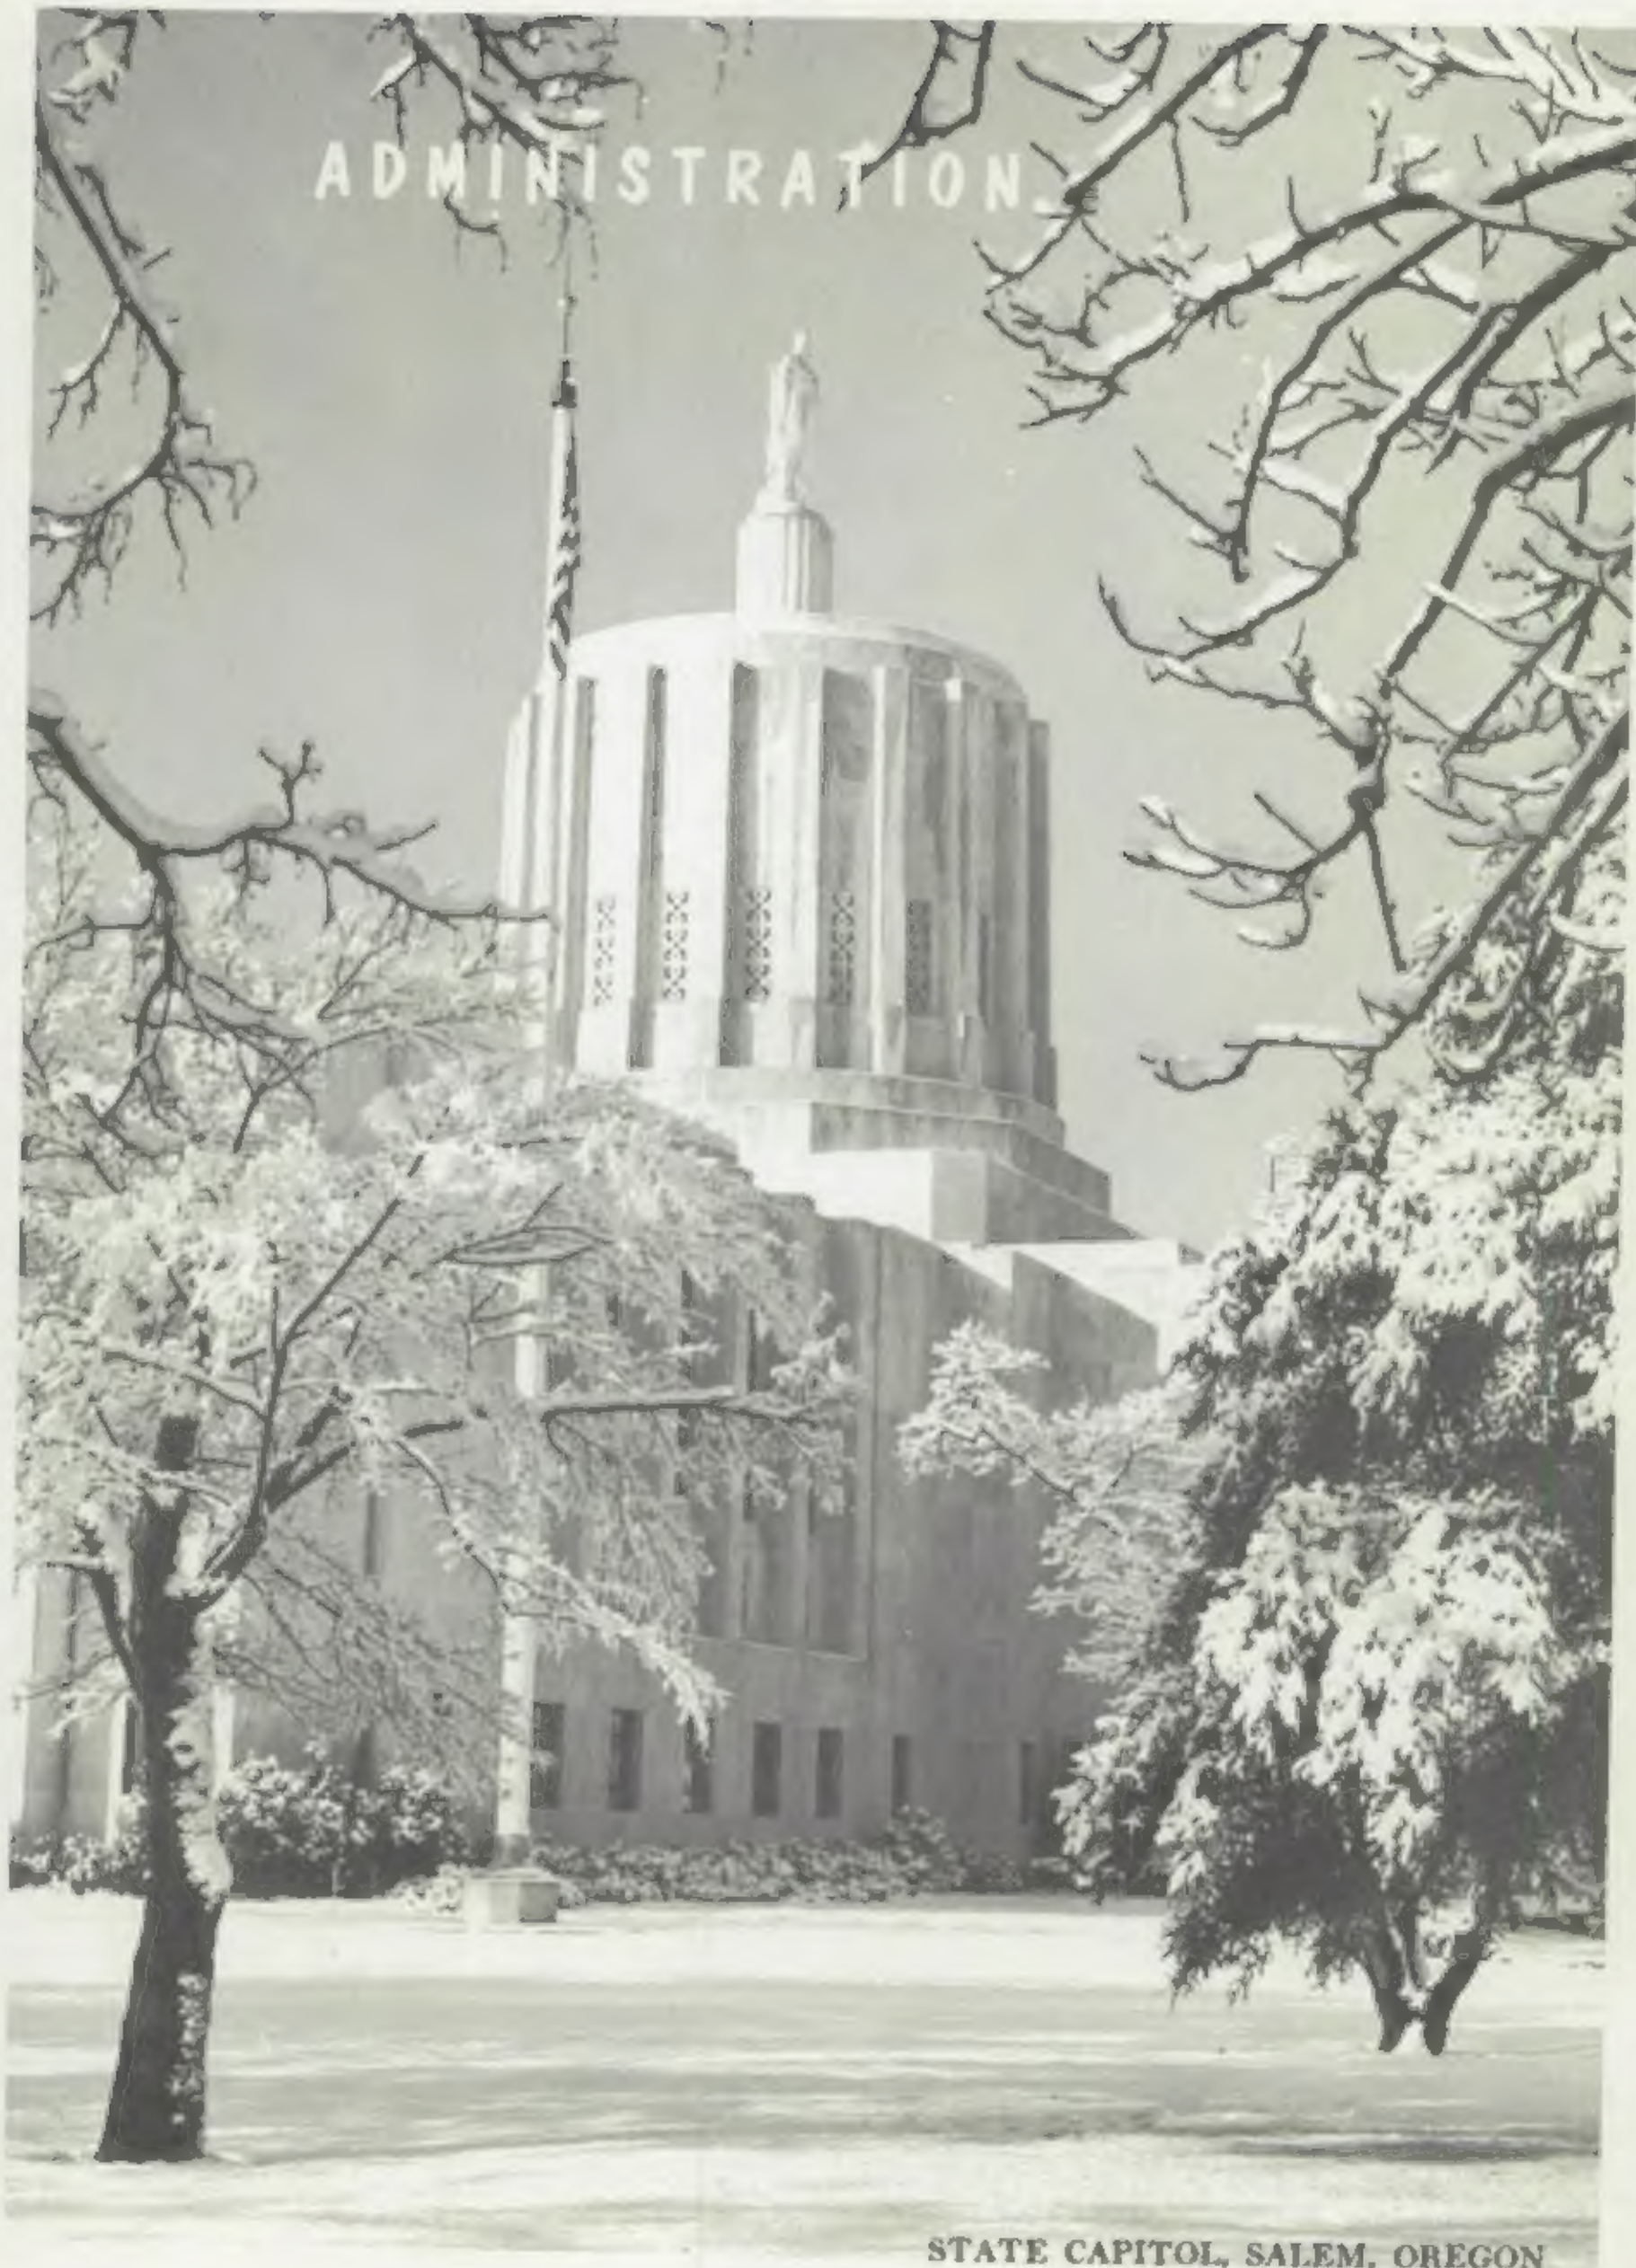

We would also like to thank Hazel Dailey for her drawing of Newberg High School and her idea for the Chehalem cover which we are using.

EDNA GILLIS
SECRETARY

Superintendent Loran Douglas tops the efficient administration of the Newberg public school system. His job is to solve the problems of school government and school policy.

Although our principal, Earl Gillis, is kept busy with school problems, he finds the time to know every pupil. He is always willing to discuss any problem with us.

Silas Wallace, clerk at Newberg high, has earned the respect of faculty and pupils.

The board members of District U-6-J are constantly working on the problems that confront them. These problems concern school finance, policy, administration and construction.

The secretaries, Mrs. Edna Gillis and Mrs. Mabel Walters, are continually busy keeping the office running at top speed. They are always willing to help the faculty and the students alike.

A black and white photograph of a coastal landscape. In the foreground, there are several trees with bare branches, some of which are dark and silhouetted against the lighter background. The trees are scattered across the frame, with a large one on the left and several smaller ones on the right. In the middle ground, there is a body of water, possibly a bay or a large pond, which is calm and reflects the light. The background shows a distant shoreline with more trees and a hazy sky. The overall mood is serene and quiet.

SENIOR

CLASS

Leading the senior class this year was President Dennis Inloes, assisted by Larry Baurer, vice-president; Rachel Baker, secretary; Mary Johnston, treasurer, and Carol Ann Senter, representative.

Helping the class officers carry out the senior activities was the senior council, consisting of Larry Hall, Nellie Hindman, Patricia Elliott, Mary Lois Rittenhouse, and Syd Coleman.

Oh hurray, hurray;
For that day in May,
When at last we graduate.
At the door we stand
With an open hand
Our diplomas we eagerly take.

We were the ones
Who were quite "mum"
During our first class yell.
Of our freshman play
You'll have to say
We really did quite well.

Our sophomore year
Oh dear, oh dear!
The assemblies, they were loud.
We visited the zoo
And a tree farm, too,
And read Julius Caesar aloud.

We struggled through,
As most kids do.
It certainly was no whiz!
In world culture
The biggest torture
Was the thousand question quiz.

The whole school shook
When the honors we took
With our junior one-act play.
Our actor was best,
And all the rest
Excelled in every way.

Our Junior Prom,
The best put on,
Was "A Key to Paradise"
Pink and white
And silver bright
Made it so very nice.

Close to death
While learning Macbeth
All we seniors came.
In such a hurry,
We began to worry
We'll never be the same.

Our dear old class
Struggled to the last
To finish the rugged climb.
Thank you so much
For lending that crutch
Says the Class of '59.

Bob Smith led the juniors through a busy and successful year. They held a class party and presented a one-act play in the fall. Throughout the year they showed high spirit in all class competition and in all school activities. The social climax of the year, and a dream come true, was the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. To help finance this event, four junior girls worked at the candy counter at noon. All their hard work was rewarded because the prom was the "best ever".

SOPHOMORE

CLASS

Jim Collier, Cathie Curry, Charlene Carlisle, Tony Dressel,
Bill Champagne

The sophomores were busy this year taking care of Herkimer and preparing for 70-question world culture quizzes. Highlighting the year's events was winning the best play and the best actress and actor awards for the one-act plays last fall. Also among their activities was a class party. Helping run the student store was a major money-raising project for the class. As well as being jovial jokers, they were active in sports and really supported their class in all events. The sophomores added pep and enthusiasm to the halls of NCHS.

CLASS

Ken Overton, Maryanne Sankka, Mary Sue Twenke, Merlin Lafite,
Mike McCullough

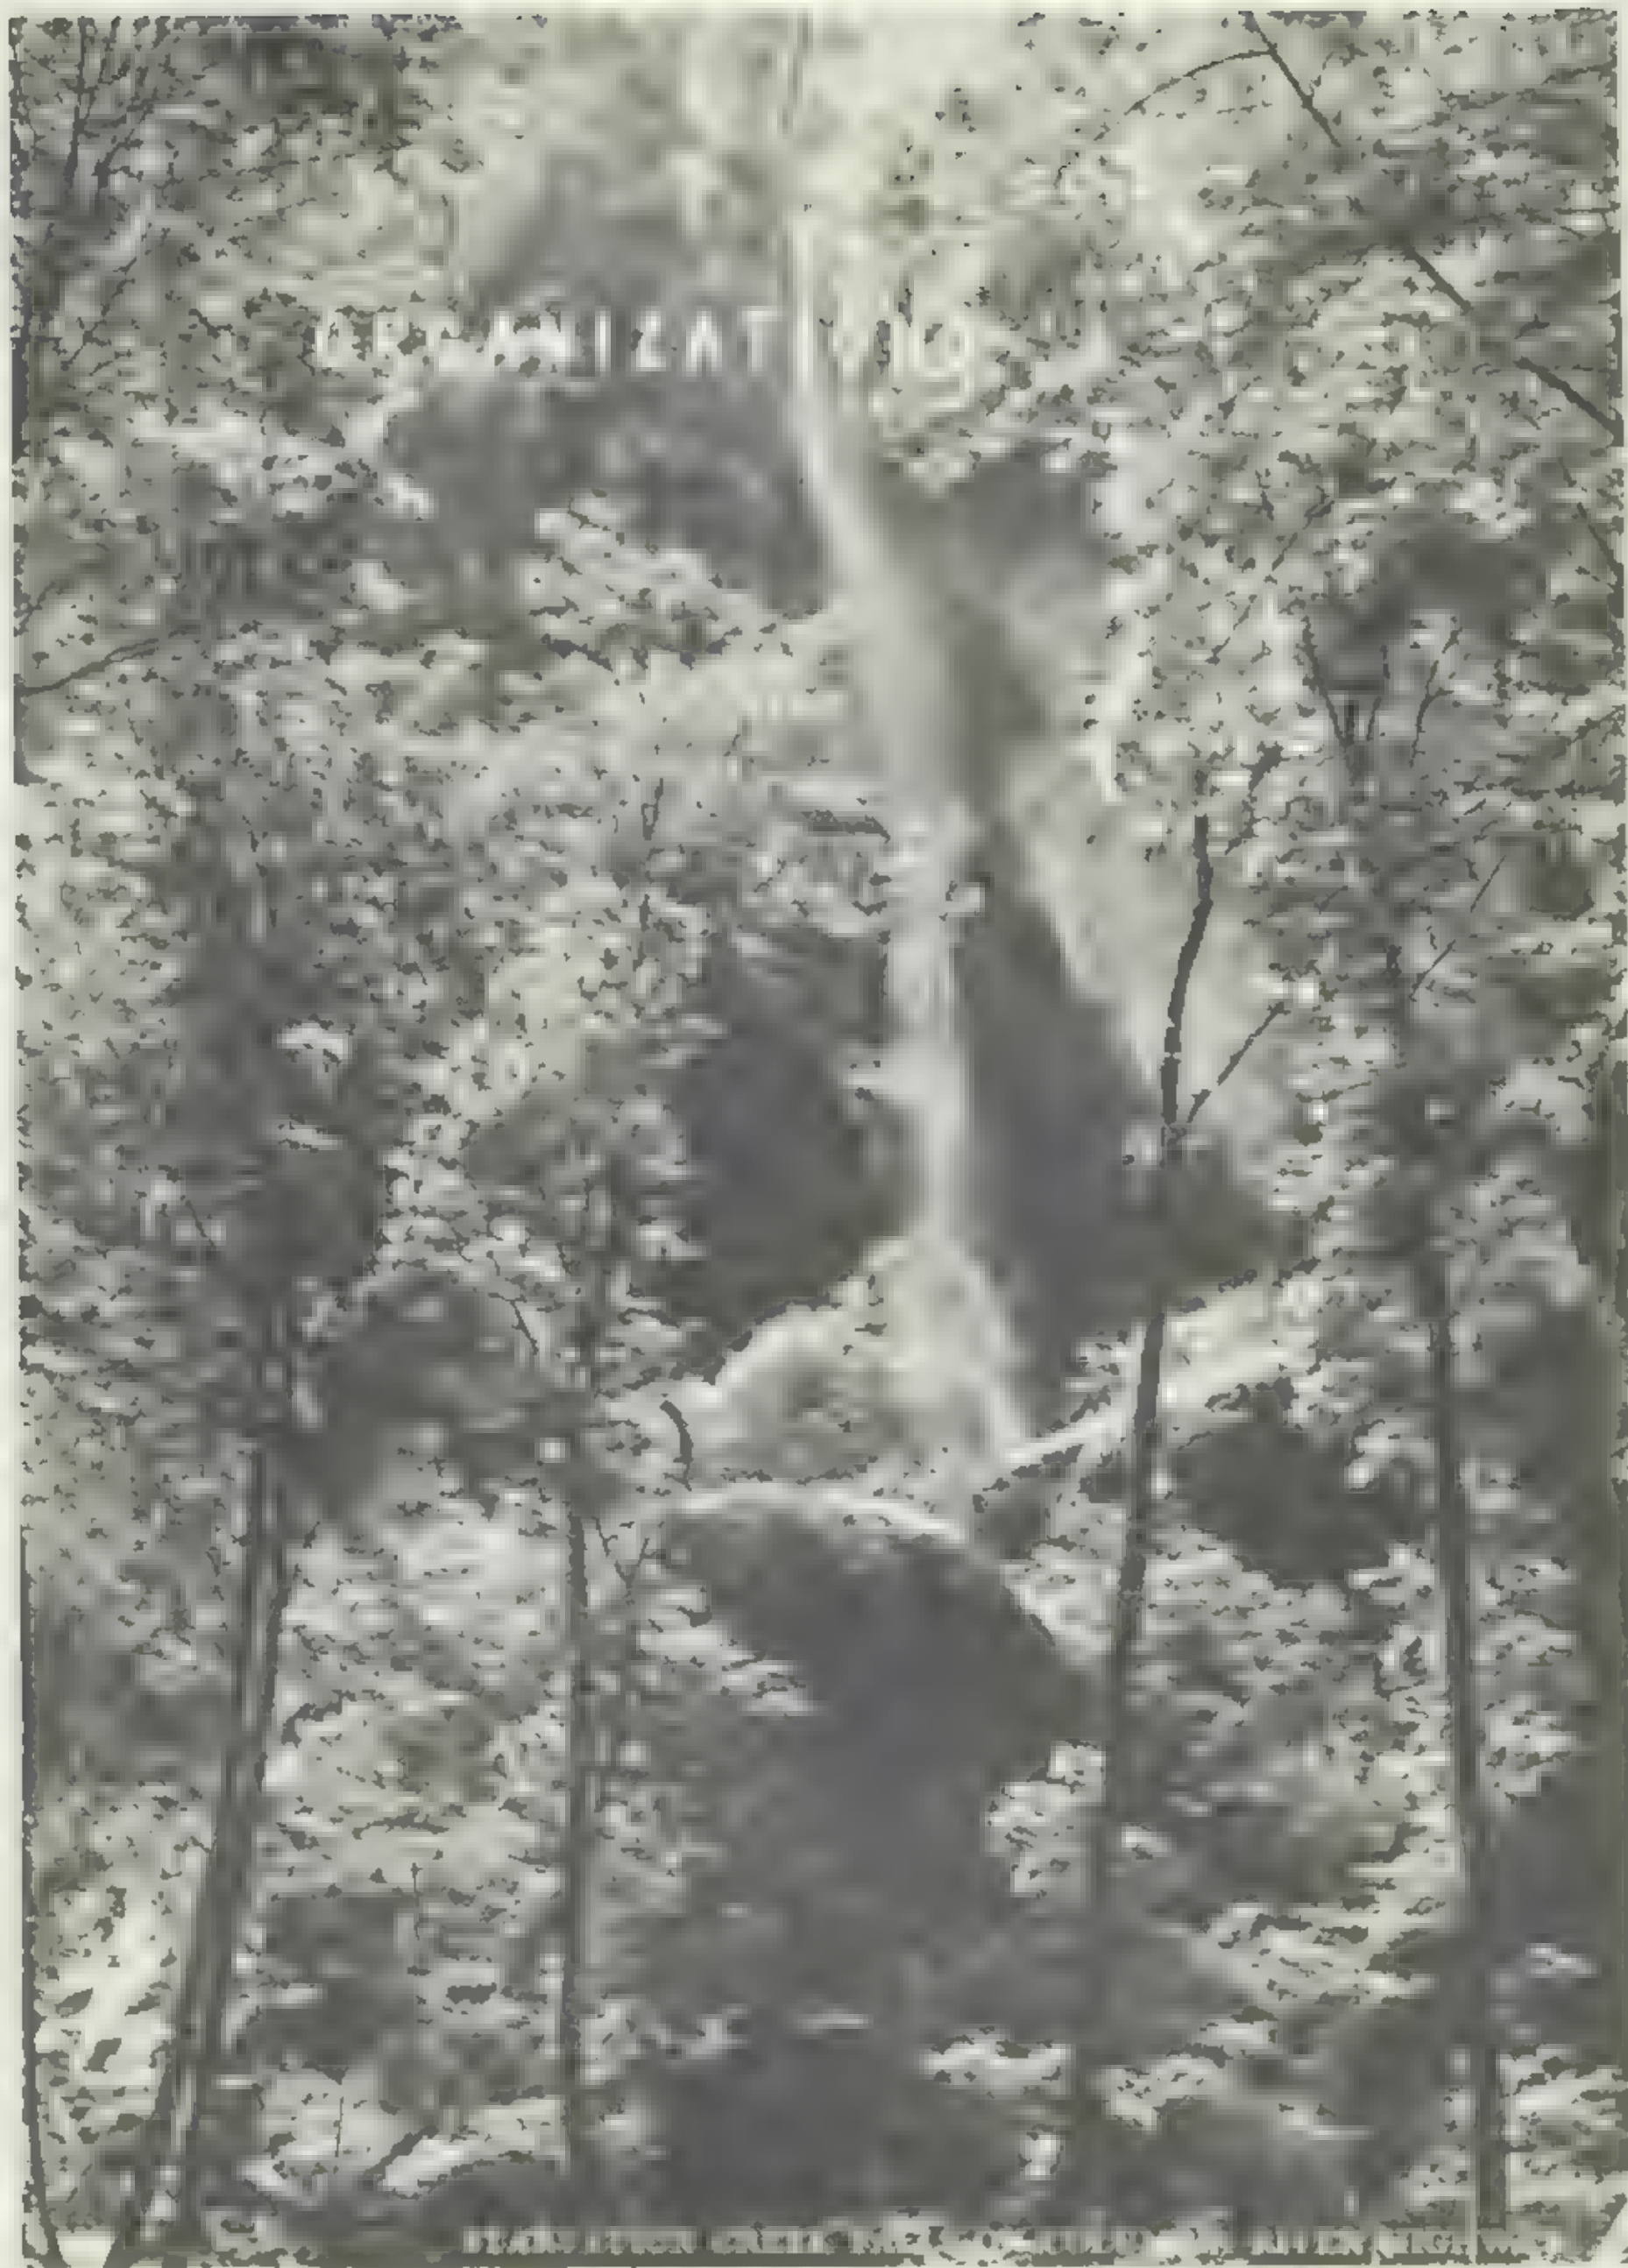

The freshman class led a very successful and eventful year under the leadership of Mike McCullough. They presented a musical play and held their class party in the fall. Helping run the student state was the main money-raising project for the freshmen. The fresh showed good sportsmanship and mighty lung power on their dress-up day. In their gummy socks and mismatched shoes they could be heard shouting their 'Hail, daughtery senior, six weeks away at noon.' As the largest class to enter Newberg high with an enrollment of 176, they really rocked the bus here at pep assemblies. They displayed good school spirit at games, too.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council, with its efficient officers, always held orderly and well planned business meetings. Home room representatives and all class presidents joined the officers in governing the extracurricular activities of the school. Raising club contributions, airing grievances and home room suggestions, helping maintain the building and grounds and improving school and community relations were all a part of the accomplishments of Student Council.

The annual Halloween party, this year a "Mad Hatter's Party," was a big success. Both faculty and student participation were outstanding.

Sink a donut for a senior victory!

Munch that meringue.

Girls' League, under the leadership of Mary Johnston, felt the year of 1958-59 to be its best. Shining stars, tooting the tubs, and sponsoring Golden Autumn, the annual Date Dance, were all part of Twirp Week. Other activities performed by the Girls' League were the sale of pennants, observance of Hi-Day and a Mother-Daughter Dessert. A girl of the month was selected for every month of the school year. The club was governed by Mary Belle Johnston, president, Karen Cornett, vice-president, Susan Laffler, secretary, Marilyn Winters, treasurer, and Mrs. Mary Cody, adviser.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

BOYS' LEAGUE

Boys' League is open to all boys attending NCHS. The purpose of the club is to stress leadership and to develop friendship among the boys. This year Boys' League had an Armed Forces Day, and a representative from each branch of the service gave a talk. Each month a boy of the month is chosen from Boys' League by the faculty to represent the club at Rotary each week. The club sponsored a sock-later for the school and the annual Knave of Hearts Dance. A boy was chosen from Boys' League to rule as Knave over this event.

FUTURE NURSES OF AMERICA

Future Nurses got off to a grand start this year with a new constitution. The club also picked their official pin and worked hard on a big tea and joint program and installation given for the hospital auxiliary. In addition to this, two girls worked each day for one week every three months at Newberg Community Hospital. Officers were Linda Getty, president, Becky Redding, vice-president; Letha Lattin, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Gretchen George, adviser.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

"Not easy, but worth it," the senior members of the Future Teachers of America said when they returned from the first day of student teaching at Edwards. All members of the club, open to sophomores, juniors and seniors, took part in candy sales at plays, and some helped with the High School Open House during American Education Week. Officers for the year were Donna Hodson, president; Linda Burrill, vice-president; Pat Baker, secretary-treasurer; Mary Alice Hampton, historian; and Miss Helen Johnston, adviser.

TIGER TEENS

Say! I've never heard of this club before. That's because it's just a new name for two old clubs that combined. That's right! Tigerettes and Y-Teens combined last spring to form a new service club, Tiger Teens, which is open to junior and senior girls only. The club had a very successful CARE package drive, and they also sponsored the March of Dimes campaign and the May Day activities. A spaghetti feed was lots of fun too. This year's officers were Rachel Baker, president; Gerry Meyer, vice-president; Mary Lois Rittenhouse, secretary, and Mary Belle Johnston, treasurer. Mr. Meynink was the girls' adviser.

TIGERETTES

Operating under a new name and constitution, the Tigerettes had a very busy year. The pep club wore stylish new outfits of blue vests with small gold tiger emblems over white blouses and blue plaid skirts, while pep staff selected gold middy outfits as alternate uniforms. The Tigerettes worked together on routines, skits and pep assemblies, the TYV League Jamboree being the big event of the year. The club was headed by Gerry Meyer, with Lea Ware as president of the pep staff and Sue Henshaw, president and Rachel Baker, secretary of the pep club.

BAND

With the choir, the band acted as co-hosts for two musical events—the Northwest Oregon Solo and Ensemble Contest in March and the IAA Festival Concert in April. Several band members also attended Music in May at Forest Grove and the All Northwest Band in Seattle. Among other activities were the annual fall, Christmas and spring concerts, an assembly for the student body, and playing at home football and basketball games and pep assemblies. Mr. Charles Thompson directed the band. Officers were Ken Vanden Hoek, president; Arden Butler, vice-president; Patsy Elliott, secretary-treasurer; Helen Huff, point secretary; Pat Baker, band manager; Loren Shrock, student director.

The orchestra under the direction of Miss Muriel Phipps has been a new addition to the music department this year.

CHOIR

The NUHS choir members have certainly had their share of activities this year. They took part in the annual fall, Christmas and spring concerts, and presented a Christmas assembly for the student body. They also acted as co-hosts with the band for the Northwest Oregon Solo and Ensemble Contest in March and the TYV Festival in April and some members attended Music in May at Forest Grove. The highlight of the whole year was the annual operetta, which took place in March. Mr. Millard Leslie directs the choir. Officers are Ed Collier, president; Ed Miller, vice-president; Benny Shires, secretary; Patti Anderson, treasurer; and Karen Chipley, point secretary.

GAA

GAA opened the year with a rollicking fun night. They had games and stunts to get the new and old members acquainted. The Mother-Daughter Fun Night held later was a great success with about one hundred people attending. The gifts from their Christmas party were sent to the mental hospital. GAA's big event of the year was the Sports Festival. Queen Carol Ann I reigned over the dance.

Leading GAA in its activities were Deloris Gumbel, president; Phyllis Tautfest, vice-president; Nellie Hindman, secretary; Hazel Dailey, treasurer; and Jackie Lysaught, historian. Point chairman for the year was Karen Scott. Mrs. Otter served as adviser.

ORDER OF THE N

To promote interest in sports is the purpose of Order of the N. Boys who earn a letter in one of the five major sports at NUHS are eligible for membership.

The club helps keep the school grounds clean, is in charge of free play in the gym at noons, and is in charge of cars being driven at noon. Order of the N held a picnic with GAA in May. The officers were Larry Baurer, president; Ken Hedman, vice-president; Dennis Inloes, secretary; and Mr. Art Keith, adviser.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Proud! That's what NUHS students were when they heard about this year's achievements of the Future Farmers of America. The members of FFA won honors at both the state and county fairs, participated in chapter, district, and state speaking contests, and held their annual Parent-Son banquet with the FFA national president as the main speaker. This organization's purposes are to establish boys in farming; to develop sound agricultural practices, farm leadership, and character; and to cooperate in community activities. Presiding officers were David Roedel, president; Lonny Fendall, vice-president; Ken Vanden Hoek, secretary; David Baker, treasurer; Stan Gaibler, sentinel; and Richard Owens, reporter. Mr. Bennett was the club adviser.

MASQUE CLUB

Thespians is a national honorary in which members are chosen for outstanding work done in production or acting. The club's purpose is to promote interest in drama. This year the Thespians sponsored and directed the three one-act plays in the fall. They held a semi-formal initiation of new members in the spring. The officers were Jeanne Hall, president; Judy Smith, secretary-treasurer; Gina Peck, point secretary; and Mr. Street, adviser.

A new club this year, the Masque Club gives recognition to the people behind the scenes in theatrical productions and is ready and willing to help other organizations with such things as make-up, costuming, and lighting. Officers include: Pat Baker, president; Barry Hubbell, business; Jack Wilkie, stagecraft; Karen Chipley, make-up and costume; Bob Smith, lighting; Dave Moffitt and Mary Berger, properties. Mr. Street is the club adviser.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Members of this society are chosen upon the qualifications of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. They are sworn in each year at formal initiations before the student body. Seniors are named in the fall, and juniors in the spring. Compiling and posting the honor roll every nine weeks is the responsibility of this club. Officers were Lonny Fendall, president; Judy Smith, vice-president; Marilyn Winters, secretary; and Mr. McCoy, adviser.

Busy, busy, busy was the theme of Quill and Scroll this year. The national journalism honorary sponsored Mac Gillis Day, a foreign exchange student assembly, various activities at Christmas, and a semi-formal installation in February. The officers were Virginia Sause, president; Donna Hodson vice-president; Burma Druliner, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Paul, adviser.

In the mud and rain the Bengal football team practiced, passing, running, tackling, and all the bruising skills of pigskin players. Even though the team didn't end up in the win column too often, they were always in there fighting and trying their very best. The students' appreciation and admiration go to the coaches and players for sticking out the long hours of practice and work. It takes a REAL TIGER to be a football player.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Learning new plays, tricks and skills, the JV and Frosh teams racked up a pretty good season. The freshmen had more wins than any of the other teams. If they keep up the good work and spirit, it looks as though Newberg high football teams will have a bright and winning future.

WRESTLING

The Newberg Tiger matmen rate again as the pride of the school. Ending up on top of the league with "all wins," the wrestlers showed fine skill and good sportsmanship all the way. The famed bonebenders brought the "big one" home from the district meet. It now makes the Newberg trophy case shine a little brighter.

TRACK

With good athletes and lots of training, the Newberg cindermen anticipated a good track season. The high-jump, broad-jump and relays kept the Tigers on their toes for some wins.

The team was coached by Mr. Backlund, whose previous experience helped the team in many ways.

Row 1. Roger Davidson, Merlin Lafont, Roger Stopa, Ernest Sugden, Ken Ochser, Jess Wilson, Larry Johnson, Bob Thompson, Melvin Woodruff, and Wayne Gladden.
Row 2. Leo Edwards, Edgar Meier, Clayton Kuster, Ben Erb, Stanley Gaudier, Bob Smith, LeRoy Baker, Dave Bibbee, Bob Turner, and Coach Art Backlund.

 Row 2: Denny Paola, Roland Pekarek, Don Anderson, Gary Jones, and Jim Harris

Best actress, best actor and director of the winning play

This year's three one-act plays were described as "the best Newberg has seen for years." Juniors presented "The Jury Was Hung," a rollicking comedy portraying a jury room scene where eleven gossipy women and one lone man tried to reach a verdict. Gary Peterson directed the production. Freshmen, under Jeanne Hall's leadership, presented "Elmer Cleans Up." In this play a teenage boy received acclaim (from all except his parents) for publishing his father's love letters. The prize winning sophomore play, directed by Judy Smith, was "I Won't Dance." Dave Moffitt and Carolyn Zard were chosen best actor and best actress for their outstanding acting performance in this comedy concerning problem children and problem parents!

. and they lived happily ever after

THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS

"RUMPELSTILTSKIN"

"Rumpelstiltskin" was a summer project for the children's theater. It was written and directed completely by the students. Sets and costumes were also designed by the cast. The grade school audience was delighted with the production, especially with Eleanor Morgan in her role as the little elf. Judy Smith and Rosemary Skene directed the production.

"THE BIRDS AND THE BOYS"

This year for the November student body play, "The Birds and the Boys," something new was tried. Two casts were used so that more students were able to participate. The comedy concerned a newly married couple—an architect and his bird-loving wife—and three boys from a reform school. Cricket was a very messy person. She just couldn't keep her house clean, even though it was to be judged for a home of the year contest. Starring the first night were Donna Hodson as Cricket and James DeGeer as Adam Martin. Patti Anderson and Dave Moffitt had the leads the second night.

"Maudie and the Opposite Sex" was the second student body play. This production, also a comedy, was given in January. Having to leave her steady boy friend and go to a resort for the summer was hard on Maudie. Her parents were trying to separate Maudie and Davy. But what was worse was that there were no boys at the resort. And what is there for a teenage girl to do when there are no boys around? Become interested in an older man! The results were merry with many bathing beauties on the scene. Stars of this play were Carolyn Zard as Maudie and Gary Peterson as Davy.

DATE DANCE

The annual Date Dance, sponsored by Girls' League, was held November 14 in the cafetorium. The co-chairmen of the decoration committee were Barbara Decker and Donna Royer. The theme, "Gingerbread House" was carried out in the color scheme of orange, gold and brown. A park scene with a pond and trees was the main attraction. Students enjoyed dancing to the music of Al Robertson and his orchestra.

2. Planting trees in the cafetorium.

3. Beginning of a fun-filled evening!

4. Underclassmen participating in Twirp Week activities.

SPORTS FESTIVAL

Princesses Deloris and Burma, Queen Carol Ann I, Princesses Mary Belle and Donna

The Sports Festival, sponsored by GAA, was held December 19 in the cafetorium. Judy Smith and Rachel Henshaw served as co-chairmen of the decoration committee. Decorations consisted of blue and gold sports silhouettes on the windows and blue and gold crepe paper on the ceiling. Kegs of root-beer were furnished as refreshments. Russ Conrad was guest disc jockey, and everyone enjoyed dancing to the top records. Queen Carol Ann I reigned over the dance with Mary Belle Johnston, Donna Royer, Deloris Gimbel and Burma Druliner as princesses.

KNAVE OF HEARTS DANCE

A Valentine's Day theme was used for the Knave of Hearts Dance this year. The dance was held February 20 after an exciting basketball game against McMinnville. Dick Inloes was crowned Knave; Ken Hedman, Larry Hall, Don Harr and Ed Collier were others on the court. Traditional Valentine colors of red and white were used. A crepe paper ceiling and heart-shaped throne carried out the theme.

April 7th dress-up day commemorated Oregon's 100th birthday

Have you ever ordered from a French menu? Dined in the atmosphere of quaint Paris? The juniors and seniors attending the banquet probably came as close to this as they ever will when they attended the annual banquet which preceded the prom. The catetorium walls were adorned with murals of Parisian scenes. The waitresses wore French aprons and caps, and the waiters had goatees and mustaches, all of which added to the Parisian flavor of the evening. Everyone enjoyed the fried chicken served at tables decorated with purple, lavender, and white flowers and candles. Entertainment was provided by the junior girls' sextet who sang "April in Paris", Laverne Poet, who sang "Sweet Sixteen"; and the brass instrumental group.

PROM AND BANQUET

Pat Baker served as general chairman of the banquet. Other chairmen included Laverne Poet, decorations; Mary Dickerson, nut cups; Eleanore Morgan, table decorations; and Alice Hampton, menu and programs.

The theme of the YFC prom party was "Pink Fantasy". Alice Hampton and Barry Hubbell were co-chairmen of the party. The theme was carried out with pink streamers and roses, and all this plus entertainment provided for the highlight of the year.

All the charm of "April in Paris" became a reality at the junior-senior prom. Apple trees in blossom, a rippling stream, a sidewalk cafe, the Eiffel Tower, and a park in all the glory of spring added to the enchantment of the evening. Paris has been called a town like a "woman with flowers in her hair," and so the color scheme was all the beautiful pastel shades of spring flowers. Paris, the "city of light," became a city of romance and intrigue to those attending as they danced under a starlit Parisian sky.

The class of '60 hopes it was a memorable evening for everyone attending.

APRIL IN PARIS

Queen Carol Ann I was crowned at the banquet preceding the prom by Bob Smith, junior class president.

2. Students enter under a pink and white canopy and walk over a bridge onto the dance floor.

3. Patti Anderson, general chairman of the prom, and her escort, Bill Monroe

4. Dancing to the band of Van Armitage and the music of "April in Paris".

5. Students gather to talk at the sidewalk cafe.
